

TOGETHER FOR HUMANITY

Workshops & interschool programs

For upper primary and high school

Together for Humanity is now offering three programs for schools.

All programs are run by our teams of Muslim, Jewish, Christian, and often indigenous and other presenters.

- ✓ cross cultural understanding
- ✓ community of schools activities
- ✓ skills for conflict resolution
- ✓ values education
- ✓ unpacking prejudice
- ✓ relationship building
- ✓ anti bullying
- ✓ community service

Together for Humanity Interactive Presentations and Workshops

- Provides an opportunity for students to learn about diversity, commonality and question assumptions about identity with engaging, diverse presenters.
- Programs suitable for primary (years 3-6), and secondary students (years 7 -11)
- Comprises one hour presentation, and optional follow up workshops a few weeks apart.
- Small group to assembly style audience. (250 max)

Values in Action Together Program

- Offers more in-depth experience.
- Our diverse facilitators challenge and support your students to work with their peers from other schools with backgrounds different from their own.
- Two or more schools for at least 2 full days, over a period of at least one term, with ongoing support from Together for Humanity. For grades 4 - high school.
- Expands cross cultural understanding, develops citizenship and communal responsibility.
- Builds real relationships across cultural and religious difference.
- Option to do joint service project, with ongoing support from Together for Humanity.

Doing Difference Workshops

- Unpacks the challenges of living with diversity, and teaches strategies for dealing with entrenched differences and areas of conflict: cultural, political and social. Adaptable program for specific school issues.
- Includes problem solving, critical and divergent thinking, dealing with conflicting narratives, as well as the fundamentals of conflict transformation.
- Sensitively approaches entrenched conflicts.
- Develops listening skills, and techniques for self monitoring and reflection.
